Non-Communicable Disease Video – 6th

1. A non-communicable disease is something that goes wrong with your body but it is not caused by ___________________________.

2. As we grow older parts of our body are more likely to develop_______________ diseases.

3. Diseases can effect people _____________________ and ___________________

4. An allergy happens when a __________________ substance gets into the body through the __________________,_________________ and _____________

5. Some things that cause you to have an allergy:
   ____________________________________  ____________________________________
   ____________________________________  ____________________________________.

6. More people die from problems to the ______________ _____ and ____________ system than any other ( aka the circulatory system).

7. When a clot closes off an artery, it cuts off oxygen and food carried by the blood.
   this is called ________________________________  __ __________________.

8. To lessen the risk of heart disease, you should _________________________ and ________________________________.

9. Glands of the Endocrine system produce _____________________________.

10. __________________________________ is a disease where the pancreas makes too little or too much insulin.

11. Arthritis is a disease which destroys the cartilage between the ______________

12. The Nervous system is made up of the ________________________, brain and
    ____________________________________

13. __________________________________ is a disease in which the brain sends the wrong signals to the body.

14. Cancer is a disease of the cells, some causes are: _________________________
    ____________________________________

Care and good maintenance will keep your body running well for a long time.;